Art Unit: 2871

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 06/16/03 has been entered.

The specification is objected to as failing to provide proper antecedent basis for the claimed subject matter. See 37 CFR 1.75(d)(1) and MPEP § 608.01(o). Correction of the following is required: the specification does not disclose the recited limitation "wherein x value of white light out of the liquid crystal display device is in the range of 0.29-0.33 and y value is in the range of 0.30-0.34".

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000.

Art Unit: 2871

Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

Claims 1-5, 8, 9, 12-16, 19, 20 and 23-28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Ohta et al (US 6,266,116).

Note Fig.1, Fig. 3 and Embodiment 1 which identically disclose the claimed IPS – LCD comprising the common line CL and the data bus lines DL having a crossing relationship, d n being 0.316, the x value of white light out of the LCD device being 0.31 and the y value being 0.316 (col. 17, lines 23-29). For the remaining recited elements and the remaining claims, see col. 8, line 66 – col. 9, line 55; col. 16, lines 28-31; col. 17, lines 46-50.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 6, 7, 10, 11, 17, 18, 21 and 22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ohta et al'116 in view of Kang et al of record.

Claims 6, 7, 10, 11, 17, 18, 21 and 22 additionally recite that the first or second alignment layer comprises a photosensitive material being selected from the group consisting of polyvinylcinnamate, polysiloxanecinnamate and cellulosecinnamate.

However, Kang et al disclose that it was known to employ polyvinylcinnamate as the alignment layer for preventing phase distortion and light scattering phenomena (col. 6, lines 12-19). Thus, it would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art in view of Kang et al known to employ polyvinylcinnamate as the alignment layer in Ohta's device for preventing phase distortion and light scattering phenomena.
